Pertinent Paragraphs

This evening will witness the graduation from the local high school of 59 boys and girls. Some of them will continue at some one of the numerous available institutions of higher education. For others, tonight's exercises will mark the end of their scholastic career. We wish them all a lot of "luck."

The senate has approved a resolution providing for one continuous session of congress each year beginning Jan. 2. This would do away with the short session which, usually expensively harmless, proves very embarrassing on election years due to the then present "lame ducks," of which there are always a number. It is the fifth time that a like resolution has been approved by the learned senators—and it will probably be the fifth time that the resolution will meet its Waterloo in the house.

Robert E. Nunan of Palo Alto, deceased, wished that trust funds of $300 and $500 be created from a fraction of the moneys of his estate for the purpose of providing flowers for his grave and feed for the birds which visit the vicinity of his late home. Flying in the face of precedent, Judge J. R. Welch, after due consideration, said "yes." Heirs of the dead man, who sought to frustrate their benefactor's dying wish, must enjoy having their smallness held up for public inspection.

Prince Louis of Bourbon, cousin of the king of Spain, refused an offer of marriage made by Mabelle Corey, Broadway star of the "gay nineties." The former actress, who has known the prince for 20 years or more, offered him a home and $1,000 a month for spending money. The "prince" said the dowry was insufficient. For a pauper the prince is pretty particular.

Frequently we hear it said that rattlesnakes are few and far between in and around the Santa Clara valley. That the opinion is generally entertained may be gathered from the hikers one sees wearing nothing but stockings to protect their legs while hiking in the hills. At Hollister the other day, layers of a gas main encountered 63 of the reptiles in one den, and recently a visitor on a Los Gatos estate caught three rattlers in the course of a brief ride about the grounds. Laugh that off—and when you hike in the hot, brush country hereabouts, wear leather on your legs and carry a stout stick.

That's all

SEVERAL ROADS WILL BE IMPROVED, ACCORDING TO WELL-FOUNDED RUMORS

It is reported that Winchester road is due for a complete rebuilding next year. It will be budgeted separately.

Downing avenue may be oiled, due to the fact that its location is far removed from any sprinkling service.

Union avenue is also due to be paved in its turn. Just when was not divulged but it is hoped by those who live in that district that it will be in the 1930 budget.

SEA SCOUTS CARRY OFF FIRST PLACE IN DISTRICT'S MEETING

Campbell Seascouts last weekend established themselves as the outstanding group of seascouts in this part of the country. The area to which Campbell belongs ranks in ninth place out of the 642 such areas in the United States. Campbell has demonstrated by a large margin that it is the leader of this area.

The spring seascout rally for competition among the different groups was held on the Santa Cruz beach Sunday. Groups represented were San Jose, Santa Cruz, Pacific Grove, Palo Alto and Campbell. The events started about 10 o'clock with a line heaving contest. This contest was that of heaving a 50-foot line so that the scout held one end of the rope in his hand and cast to get the other end as near a target 50 feet away as was possible. Henry Ruthnick won first over all entries, coming within a few feet of the mark.

Next was the knot and splicing team. The Campbell group was composed of Elwood Swain, Noel Voge, Ivan Nelson and Henry Ruthnick. The team won 18 points to their nearest competitor's 12.

The rowing contest between the "prune valley" boys and the lads from Pacific Grove was won by the prune-pickers. The victorious team was made up of Noel Voge, starboard stroke and also stroke for the entire boat. Back of him were Elwood Swain, Harris Gardner, Glen Wills and Lloyd Brown. On the port side was George Stubbe, stroke, Ivan Nelson, Henry Ruthnick, Eugene Grattan and Alfred Beer. Watkins handled the rudder, though it was the first time he had been in a seascout boat.

The making sail contest was won by Santa Cruz. Campbell was third with the time of one minute and 50 seconds.

The next event was receiving orders from the pier by means of signaling by semaphore to the boys in the boat. Elwood Swain was in charge of the Campbell group and Alfred Beer received the signals. The Campbell boys received correctly nine out of ten orders sent, although they were almost a mile from the sender. San Jose and Santa Cruz received eight out of ten.

In the event to ascertain which group could qualify the most of their boys in the tests for a merit badge in swimming Campbell qualified eight boys out of the nine who were entered in the contest.

The horse and rider contest was won by San Jose with Campbell second. There was also a canoe tilting contest in which the local first team, Elwood Swain and Glen Wills, sank as though they were the iron men they had shown themselves to be on the beach.

Noel Voge and Glen Wills, in the next contest, failed to put the lads from Pacific Grove into the water. In fact, Noel was pushed clear out of the Campbell craft without upsetting the canoe. Pacific Grove took a first and San Jose came second in this scrimmage.

The last and most interesting contest was the tug-of-war. The first heat was won by Campbell from Pacific Grove. The same number of lads were used from each group. Campbell pulled the rope their way about a yard and then took a big heave and ran away with the twine before their opponents knew what it was all about. But not so with the last pull, for this tussle was with San Jose, which team had outpulled Santa Cruz. Everyone thought that the winner of the pull and the ten points that went with it would win the entire day. Elwood Swain was Campbell's anchor man and Lloyd Brown pulled first. The Campbell boys were told by their ever-watchful officers just what to do and the boys followed instructions to the dot. The rope was held without tension by both sides until the referee said "pull." When this signal was given the local boys threw all their weight and strength onto the rope and had dragged the San Jose aggregation about a yard before they got their heels into the ground. The locals were satisfied with the gain and, planting their feet in the sand, they refused to move. They gained several more inches before

FATHER'S DAY

June 16 is Father's Day, and we want to urge everyone not to overlook this occasion. For some reason, Mother's Day is much more widely observed than is Father's Day. This is understandable in the light of the beautiful sentiments that are aroused by the very word "mother"—yet father need not be neglected, as too often he seems to be.

Father may seem indifferent to such an occasion as Father's Day. Probably, if asked, he would call it "nonsense" and ask his children to "forget it."

Father may seem austere, or too practical to care for such trinkets as you might be moved to purchase for him, or, in many cases it might seem ridiculous to present him with a gift out of his own money.

But remember one thing! A man is only a boy grown up. Your father, no matter what his exterior, has hidden away in his heart a little boy. And that little boy will come to the surface and with father will retire to his room as happy about his red pair of suspenders, or his tie, or the box of cigars that you have given him, as any little boy would be about a box of marbles or a baseball glove.

Don't be fooled by your father. He likes little attentions just as much as mother does.

THE LIMIT OF MAN

There is no way of predicting the extent of developments in the radio field. Tests by the Canadian National railway near Toronto indicate the futility of predicting the ultimate destiny of the radio. It is possible now to talk casually from moving trains, to send telegrams from them, and to broadcast from them.

Years ago it was thought the ultimate was reached when phonograph records broadcast were heard over a comparatively short distance.

At that time anyone suggesting that broadcasts might be made from a moving train would have been considered insane. In ancient times such a prophet would have been burned at the stake for witchcraft.

Yet these miracles have come to pass, and do not doubt it, others are coming. There seem to be very few limitations to the ability of man to conquer the elements. But there is one very definite limit.

When Lieutenant Soucek sought to make a new altitude record, eight miles above the ground, he had to breathe oxygen from tanks in order to keep alive. As it was, breathing was an agonizing experience. His adventure proved there was a limit to human progress in the sense that man is confined to the little globe on which he is born.

Grandma is cooking with electricity

"JUST keeping up with the times," says Grandma Collins, "I am one of the many new users of the electric range. I was just over at the PG and E's office and they told me one-thousand five-hundred of their customers will get electric ranges this May and June."

The electric range gives a beautiful, clean kitchen and perfect baking to women who love modern methods.

The electric range has white and gray porcelain enamel that makes kitchens attractive. It bakes perfectly. And it does it automatically. The oven heats up to 400 degrees in 9 to 11 minutes—as fast as one can mix biscuits. The open or closed cooking elements are now made smaller to fit your pans. Heat that was formerly wasted goes to work. Food cooks faster, less electricity is used.

While you're downtown, stop in at a dealer's or at our office and see these new electric ranges. Or telephone us and our representative will gladly show you pictures of the many beautiful new models.

GRANGE NOTES

By F. S. Newcomb

Our county horticultural agent, L. R. Codey, spoke before the Grange Tuesday night on the depredations of the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida and the effort to control it and prevent its spread to other parts of the country. It is considered one of the most destructive insects to fruit and vegetables the world has ever known and is causing enormous losses to the fruit interests of Florida and Georgia. If once established in this state it will cause greater losses to fruit and vegetable growers than has ever been known before, according to Mr. Codey. Every effort and precaution is being taken to keep the fly out of California. Specimens of the insects, in small vials of alcohol, were passed about that those present might become familiar with the appearance of the pest. The fly is about three-eighths of an inch long, lighter in color than the ordinary house fly and appeared to have minute specks on its wings.

The pest attacks nearly all kinds of fruits, deposits its eggs under the skin, where the little maggots hatch, more than 50 of these having been found on one orange.

The fly has been found on over 70 varieties of fruits and vegetables.

The GENERAL TIRE

—goes a long way to make friends

If you like an open road, in a car that can travel as fast as you care to drive it, you will enjoy it twice as much on Generals. If you have ever felt your tires at the end of a fast run, you know that speed means heat. By using only the purest friction and tread rubber in generous quantities, General reduces internal friction (the cause of heat in tires) to a minimum. With Generals you can travel far and fast with the comforting knowledge that they won't wither from heat when you need them most.

1800 conversations at once through a cable less than 3 inches thick

THE earth beneath our great cities is so crowded with pipes, cables, etc., that any further additions create serious engineering problems. Yet the number of telephone calls that must flash underground is steadily increasing.

The challenge to the scientific minds of the Bell System was to find a way for more conversations in existing conduits. Today, by many improvements, cables of 1800 pairs of wires have been perfected.
Eighteen hundred conversations at once—600 more than before—can pulse through them.

There is no standing still in the Bell System. Better and better service at the lowest cost is the goal.
